Johns Hopkins Community-based Pharmacy Residency Programs

Thank you for your interest in the PGY-I Community-Based Pharmacy Residency Program at the Johns Hopkins Care at Home (JHCH).

The Community-Based Pharmacy Residency Programs offered by JHCH emphasize the development of advanced practical skills needed by community pharmacy practitioners concentrating on enhancing existing clinical services and implementing pharmacy practice programs. The experience is individualized to each resident to develop clinical, analytical, teaching and leadership skills. Residents will provide patient care in a collaborative environment, gaining exposure to diverse clinical specialty areas.

Webinar Information

To provide additional information to interested candidates, JHCH will host a webinar highlighting information about the PGY-I Community-Based Pharmacy Residency program.

Wednesday November 29, 2023 at 7pm EST
