Endoscopy Unit Management in the 21st Century: Issues, Solutions and Plans for the Future

DESCRIPTION
The one-day meeting will include didactic presentations by key national endoscopists, nurses and industry. The speakers will address important issues and challenges facing endoscopy unit directors and nurse managers in the U.S. followed by focused panel discussions on endoscopy unit quality assurance/efficiency, reprocessing and granting of endoscopy privileges. Small groups will present their recommendations at the end of the meeting.

GOALS
As the only endoscopy directors meeting in the U.S., it is our hope that this meeting will again provide an important forum for endoscopy unit directors to identify important issues in endoscopy unit management. In addition, we hope that this forum will also provide a unique opportunity for endoscopy unit directors and industry to better understand and address important issues discussed at the meeting. The target audience includes endoscopy unit medical directors, administrative or nurse managers, or any individuals aspiring or interested to become leaders of endoscopy units.
