

THE JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY SCHOOL OF MEDICINE

General Instructions

ADMISSION REQUIREMENTS: Specific requirements for admission to each program are noted in The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine Catalog and the graduate program website: <http://www.hopkinsmedicine.org/graduateprograms>. Any questions can be resolved by directly contacting the program to which you are applying. Contact information is available on the graduate program website.

TRANSFERS: Applicants desiring to transfer from another school must be in good standing at the school previously attended.

FINANCIAL AID: It is advisable for prospective graduate students to estimate their total costs (tuition and living expenses) and relate them to their available sources of income. The average estimated total expense for the twelve-month academic year, including tuition, for students in most programs is $60,300. Inquiries about financial aid (U.S. Citizen and Permanent Resident) may be addressed to: The Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, Office of Financial Aid, Broadway Research Building, 733 North Broadway, Suite 137, Baltimore, MD 21205, or telephone (410) 955-1324. E-mail: finaid@jhmi.edu

DEADLINE FOR APPLICATIONS: Applications and all supporting documents for admission to the fall term must be submitted in accordance with the following program deadline dates:

December 15

Neuroscience

January 1

Cellular and Molecular Medicine

January 4

Program in Molecular and Computational Biophysics

January 10

Biochemistry, Cellular and Molecular Biology
Biological Chemistry
Biomedical Engineering
Cellular and Molecular Physiology
Functional Anatomy and Evolution
Human Genetics and Molecular Biology
Immunology
Pathobiology
Pharmacology and Molecular Sciences

January 15

History of Science, Medicine, and Technology

February 1

Health Sciences Informatics
(All supporting materials received by 2/15)

February 21

Medical and Biological Illustration
(The academic year for this program begins in early August)

APPLICATION FEES:

Online Application

$ 80.00 – 1 program
$100.00 – 2-3 programs
$150.00 – 4 or more programs

$200.00 – 4 or more programs

The application fee is $25.00 for Johns Hopkins University students (currently enrolled in a degree program) and for Johns Hopkins University employees. Applicants to the Health Sciences Informatics program are not required to pay an application fee. Payment must be made by check or money order payable to THE JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY. Foreign applicants should send international money orders in U.S. currency for the amount of $80.00, $100.00, or $150.00 for online application or $100.00, $150.00, or $200.00 for paper application. Do not send currency. Checks drawn on foreign banks will not be accepted – applications will be returned. Application fees are non-refundable. Applications will not be processed until your fee is received.

ADDITIONAL INSTRUCTIONS FOR INTERNATIONAL APPLICANTS

1. The Program in Molecular and Computational Biophysics and Health Sciences Informatics graduate programs are solely supported by a NIH Training Grant for which only U.S. Citizens or Nationals and Permanent Residents are eligible.
2. The Biochemistry, Cellular and Molecular Biology graduate program requires International applicants to submit a pre-application. The pre-application can be found on the program website: <http://biolchem.bs.jhmi.edu/bcmb/application/preapplication.shtml>
3. Will you be able to arrive in August (July for BME) for the beginning of the academic year? _____ If not, when can you arrive and please explain the delay _____

The Johns Hopkins University does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, gender, religion, sexual orientation, national or ethnic origin, age, disability, or veteran status in any student or employment program or activity administered by the university or with regard to admission or employment. Defense Department discrimination in ROTC programs on the basis of sexual orientation conflicts with this university policy. The university is committed to encourage a change in the Defense Department policy. Questions regarding Title VI, Title IX and Section 504 should be referred to Ray Gillian, Assistant Provost & Director of the Office of Equal Opportunity & Affirmative Action Programs, 205 Garland Hall, (410) 516-8075.
