

Scope & Purpose of This Handbook

This employee handbook has been prepared to give you general information about the work environment, and some of the benefits, and the rules and policies under which we operate. More extensive information is available from supervisors or the human resources staff. From time to time, you may receive updated information concerning changes in policy and benefits. For any questions, please contact the Human Resources Department.

This handbook is not an employment contract. You are an at-will employee. Your at-will status means both you and JHHCG may terminate the employment relationship at any time, with or without cause or advance notice. Your at-will status can be changed only through a written contract signed by you and the president of JHHCG. With the exception of written employment contracts, this handbook supersedes all prior agreements or statements regarding your employment at JHHCG. JHHCG may change its policies and procedures and any provision of this handbook at any time without advance notice.

A special thanks to Professor P. M. Forni, Ph.D., for allowing JHHCG to quote his philosophies and teachings from his books entitled Choosing Civility (2002) and The Civility Solution (2008).

The JHHCG handbook is available in alternate formats, including large print, upon request.

JHHCG Philosophy on Communication

JHHCG respects employees' right to choose if they wish to be represented by a labor union. We equally respect the choice of our employees, who have chosen to deal openly and directly with the organization's leadership throughout our history.

We strongly believe that our employees, who have chosen individual freedom and direct communications with leadership at JHHCG, free from third-party intervention, have made a wise choice. We are committed to treating our employees with the equity and fairness they deserve and continue to believe that our employees themselves are best able to voice their concerns when they can do so directly to their supervisors.

We believe that the best atmosphere for a leading home care agency is one of direct, open and honest communication between employees and their managers.

"It takes a variety of people to challenge us, encourage us, promote us, and most of all, helps us achieve a broader dimension of ourselves." – Glenn Van Ekeren

WORKFORCE DIVERSITY

JHHCG is committed to ensuring that the value of diversity is upheld in everything that we do for our patients, families, visitors, customers, the broader community, employees, and all those individuals, groups, and organizations that help us to achieve our mission. JHHCG is committed to ensuring that patient care, service delivery, and the healing environment is designed in a way that respects the individuality of patients, visitors, and employees.

COMPLIANCE

Johns Hopkins Home Care Group (JHHCG) is committed to following all applicable laws and regulations. In particular, we are committed to compliance with those laws and regulations that address health care fraud, waste, and abuse and the proper billing of Medicare, Medicaid, and other government funded health care programs, as well as other payers (insurance companies or self pay patients). Examples of such laws include:

The Federal False Claims Act. This law prohibits a person from knowingly filing a false or fraudulent claim for payment or knowingly using a false statement or representation in connection with filing a claim seeking reimbursement from Medicare, Medicaid, or other federally funded programs. A person acts "knowingly" if the person has actual knowledge of the falsity of the information in the claim, acts in deliberate ignorance of the truth or falsity of the information in the claim, or acts in reckless disregard of the truth or falsity of the information in the claim. Examples of potential violations of the False Claims Act include: billing for services not performed, falsifying, backdating, or altering entries in the medical record to obtain higher reimbursement and billing for services provided under an illegal contract (involving bribes or kickbacks).

The False Claims Act permits a person with actual knowledge of false claims activity to file a lawsuit on behalf of the federal government. These qui tam or whistleblower provisions contain detailed procedures for how such lawsuits are to be filed. In certain circumstances, the person who files the lawsuit, known as a relator, may be entitled to share in a percentage of any recovery on behalf of the federal government. The False Claims Act protects employees from retaliation or discrimination in the terms and conditions of their employment based on lawful acts done in furtherance of an action under the False Claims Act.

State Fraud Laws. A growing number of states have enacted state laws that are similar to the federal False Claims Act. To date, Maryland has not enacted such a law. Maryland does have a number of enforcement mechanisms that the state government can pursue to address suspected instances of fraud, waste, or abuse. We are committed to complying with all applicable state laws.

How You Can Help

JHHCG relies heavily on you, our employees, to identify potential compliance problems and ask questions regarding our policy and practice for compliance with health care fraud and abuse laws. You should also be aware that we have a Compliance Program and various policies and procedures in place to detect and prevent fraud, waste, and abuse, and to protect those who report suspected instances of fraud, waste, and abuse. Specifically, the Corporate Compliance Department has established a Corporate Compliance Plan and Organizational Ethics Statement which addresses, among other things the Health Systems' policy or practice related to:

- Proper billing and coding guidelines
- Prevention, detection and correction of coding and billing errors related to Federal and State Health Program claims
- Methods of reporting potential non-compliance
- Investigations of potential non-compliance
- Maintaining employee anonymity and protections for reporting noncompliance
- Employee Non-Retaliation Policy
- Conflicts of Interest

These and other policies can be obtained through the Office of Corporate Compliance or by accessing our

Web site:

www.insidehopkinsmedicine.org/JHHScompliance/index.cfm

To report suspected instances of fraud, waste, or abuse or to ask question about a policy or procedure, you may contact your supervisor, the Office of Corporate Compliance, or you can call the confidential Compliance Hotline at 1-877-WE COMPLY (932-6675).

CONFIDENTIAL INFORMATION

JHHCG will maintain the confidentiality of “protected health information” (“PHI” as defined by HIPAA) and other information that is deemed to be confidential by other laws. This information may include, but is not limited to, information on patients, employees, students, other employees, donors, research, and financial and business operations. Such information is made confidential by law (such as PHI under HIPAA) or by Johns Hopkins policies. Confidential information may be information in any form: e.g., written, electronic, oral, overheard or observed. Access to all information is granted on a “need to know basis.” A “need to know” is defined as information that is required in order to do your job.

During your daily work, you may be exposed to information that is considered strictly confidential. This information should not be discussed with anybody, including: other patients, co-workers, other families, your family, and friends. You must be alert to others overhearing your professional discussions regarding a patient's condition or an employee's behavior/performance. Any inquiries from the media concerning a patient should be referred to the Sr. Director Contracting, Business Development and Marketing or Office of the President during normal working hours and to the Administrator On-Call at all other times. Disclosure of confidential information is grounds for disciplinary action up to and including termination.

All business records provided to you or in your possession must be returned to JHHCG upon termination of your employment.

HIPAA

The Health Insurance Portability Act of 1996 (HIPAA) is a federal law that applies to health plans, health care providers and health care clearinghouses. The HIPAA legislation is complex and has many components. The three areas of legislation that are the major focus for JHHCG include:

- Privacy – provides rules in regard to how an individual’s health information may be used and disclosed.
- Transaction and Code Sets – requires the use of standard transaction formats and code sets when an individual’s financial health information is transmitted electronically.
- Security – requires specific security measures to be in place to protect an individual’s health information that is sent or stored electronically.

JHHCG provides all new employees with a HIPAA overview during new employee orientation. Some employees, depending on their job duties, will require additional training. Please check with your supervisor to determine if you require additional training. Violations of HIPAA are extremely serious and may result in disciplinary action up to and including termination.

OUR EXPECTATIONS

In this section, you will find what JHHCG's expectations are in order to provide a safe and productive work environment. It summarizes important information you will need to know as you start your job and continue your employment. You are expected to be familiar with and abide by all JHHCG's policies and procedures. We believe that by following the policies and procedures, the time that you spend with JHHCG will be beneficial to you, the company and our customers.

COMPUTER, ELECTRONIC MAIL, TELEPHONE AND PERSONAL BUSINESS

Hundreds of calls come through our switchboard daily. The welfare of patients requires that lines be kept free for JHHCG use. For this reason, personal calls are to be kept to a minimum.

All personal mail must be directed to your home. Personal business activities are not to be carried on during working hours.

All electronic (including e-mail) and telephonic communication systems (including voicemail) and all communications and information transmitted by, received from, or stored in these systems are the property of JHHCG, and as such are to be used solely for job-related purposes. The use of any software and/or business equipment for private purposes, including, but not limited to, facsimiles, computers, and copy machines is strictly prohibited. Disciplinary action up to and including termination, may be taken for the misuse of business software and/or equipment.

"Both your present and your future are deeply affected by the mindset you bring to your daily experience. The way you think your way through life, ends up being your life." –P.M. Forni

CONFLICT OF INTEREST

A conflict of interest is a situation whereby an employee's outside activities could negatively affect JHHCG. Employees should avoid engaging in any outside activity or financial interest that would create a conflict with the performance of their work duties. Employees should not benefit from activities that would improperly influence the conduct of their JHHCG duties. Employees should not knowingly use JHHCG property, funds, position or power for personal or political gain.

"The extraordinary relevance of the rules of civility to our lives is that by following them we put into everyday practice the principle of respect for person. Civility does the work of empathy." – P.M. Forni

DISCIPLINARY ACTION

JHHCG has established rules in order to promote the orderly and efficient operation of JHHCG for the benefit and protection of the rights and safety of patients, visitors and co-workers.

These rules are a guide to what is considered unacceptable conduct. The organization reserves the right to change these rules. The determination of when discipline is to be applied and the level of discipline to be applied are wholly within JHHCG's discretion.

When an employee violates JHHCG or departmental standards, their supervisor is responsible for acting promptly to correct the situation and to prevent further occurrences. Often, disciplinary actions are taken in a progressive manner in order to provide the opportunity for the employee to correct his/her behavior and to meet work standards. The progressive steps in this process are:

Step 1 – Verbal Counseling

Step 2 – Written Warning

Step 3 – Suspension

Step 4 - Termination

Any and all of these steps may be omitted as deemed appropriate upon review of the circumstances. There may also be offenses which are deemed sufficiently serious to result in immediate termination. These may include, but are not limited to, acts of violence, fighting, theft, abandonment of position, serious safety and job performance infraction, breach of confidentiality, carrying weapons of any sort, falsification of records, and the possession, use, sale, purchase, or distribution of any illegal drug(s)/substance(s), drug paraphernalia, or alcohol.

In addition, we will consider the facts surrounding an arrest, a criminal complaint, a summons to answer a criminal charge, an indictment, criminal information, or any other criminal charge or conviction of an employee as a basis for disciplinary action. Employees are required to report any arrests, indictments or convictions to Human Resources immediately upon notice. If the particular circumstances and the offense charged, in our judgment, present a potential risk to the safety and/or security of our patients, employees, premises and property, such events may result in disciplinary or other appropriate action.

Attendance issues are disciplined separately from performance issues and/or other infractions. For example, an employee who has received a written warning for failure to comply with instructions and is subsequently excessively absent would usually receive a written warning rather than suspension. This procedure may not be followed when the employee has accumulated infractions in several areas. In such cases, when JHHCG, in its judgment, considers the employee's behavior, it may consider the offenses in different categories cumulatively and apply a more severe penalty than warranted by the progression specified.

A written warning for a specific infraction which is more than one year old will generally not be considered if an employee has maintained a clean record since.

The following are examples of violations/infractions:

- Assault by attempted, offered or threatened physical violence, profane or abusive language.
- Absence without call.
- Rudeness or discourtesy to staff members, patients, customers or visitors.

- Violating JHHCG's nondiscrimination and/or harassment policies.
- Failure to report accidents, injuries, or incidents involving patients or visitors.
- Failure to report a personal accident, injury or incident or report accidents, injuries or incidents involving co-workers.
- Violating fire, emergency, health, parking safety, security or smoking regulations.
- Interference with the work of another employee.
- Entering an unauthorized area.
- Unauthorized solicitation or the unauthorized sale of goods or services on JHHCG premises.
- Failure to notify the JHHCG not less than one hour prior to scheduled reporting time when unable to report for duty or as required by departmental policy.
- Excessive absenteeism (5 or more occurrences per year).
- Excessive tardiness, including returning late from break or meal periods.
- Failure to comply with verbal or written instructions, published policies, or published procedures and standards.
- Gross negligence of patient care.
- Deliberate inattention to patient care or engaging in any conduct detrimental to patient care.
- Improper release of confidential or privileged information.
- Unauthorized use, removal, theft or intentional damage to the property of a patient, visitor, staff member, co-worker, the organization or an independent contractor.
- Accepting or soliciting tips or personal gifts from patients, visitors or vendors.
- Refusal to perform assigned work.

- Falsification of employment records, application forms or other organizational records.
- Altering or falsifying the time record on one's own time sheet or altering or falsifying the time as registered on the time sheet of another employee.
- Altering or falsifying the visit activity forms and/or clinical records.
- Assault or battery.
- Unauthorized possession of firearms or other weapons on JHHCG premises.

- Disorderly or unlawful conduct while on JHHCG premises or while conducting JHHCG business, or conduct which is in any way detrimental to the organization’s operations or image in the community.

“Employees should expect to work in a civil workplace. Such a workplace is, however, a goal achieved and maintained through every employee’s effort. Corporate responsibility does not erase individual responsibility. We don’t wait for civility to happen. We work for it when we are smart enough to imagine its rewards.” –P.M. Forni

ATTENDANCE

JHHCG provides opportunities for the employee and manager to jointly manage attendance to meet JHHCG’s operational needs. Work schedules should be established and maintained to assure quality patient care, the health of the employee, and the safe and efficient operation of the organization.

It is the responsibility of all employees to meet standards of attendance. Chronic, habitual, and/or excessive lateness or absenteeism, as determined by JHHCG, will not be tolerated. Supervisors and Managers schedule employees to work in order to meet quality and operational requirements. Your failure to report for work on time or not to report at all, affects JHHCG’s ability to provide patient services, and places an undue burden on those who report for work as scheduled. It is, therefore, essential that you report to work on time at the start of your shift and when returning from all breaks in accordance with your work schedule.

Lateness, excessive absenteeism, and failure to follow call-in, break and lunch time procedures, are cause for disciplinary action up to and including termination. Your lateness and absenteeism record may be a significant factor in evaluating you for transfers and promotion requests, as well as for merit pay.

Occurrence - The absence from a scheduled shift or multiple consecutive shifts. For the purposes of this policy, two (2) incidents of lateness and/or early departure equal one (1) occurrence.

No Call/No Show – Three (3) consecutive shifts of “no call/no show” is considered job abandonment and is a critical rule violation and subject to disciplinary action up to and including immediate termination depending on circumstances. The following explains occurrences and the corresponding disciplinary action:

Unscheduled Absences	Disciplinary Action
3 occurrences within 12 months	Verbal counseling
5 occurrences within 12 months	Written warning
7 occurrences within 12 months	Suspension
8 occurrences within 12 months or a second suspension within six months	Termination

Based on the requirements of a department, supervisors may schedule, at their discretion, a combination of both lunch and break time for special situations as approved.

SLEEPING ON DUTY

Under normal working circumstances, no employee will be allowed to sleep while on duty or while providing care for a patient in their home. Under unusual circumstances or occasions, and at the discretion of their director, an employee may be authorized to sleep, and will be given verbal permission to do so. NOTE: Unusual circumstances or occasions for an employee sleeping while on duty may be: medical disaster, snow condition, medical crises demanding longer than 16-18 hours of work time without relief, or other situations determined on an emergency basis by the president. To provide the best medical care possible, JHHCG employees must exhibit the highest degree of competence and attention to the performance of their job functions at all times.

Non-exempt employees are expected to give at least two (2) weeks' notice. Exempt employees are expected to give at least four (4) weeks' notice of resignation. Exempt employees include professional/clinical staff and management staff. For the purpose of this procedure, vacation days or personal days shall not be counted as worked days. An employee who fails to comply with this requirement shall have such failure documented in their personnel file and may be considered ineligible for rehire.

- Employees that do not give appropriate notice will not receive vacation pay out.
- Employees terminated for just cause will not receive vacation pay out.

and disciplinary action. This documentation should be filed in the employee's personnel file.

A SUPPORTIVE WORK ENVIRONMENT

JHHCG works tirelessly to create a supportive work environment that values cooperation and mutual respect. JHHCG sustains this atmosphere by actively promoting diversity, providing multiple opportunities for communication and listening and responding to employees while providing a safe and supportive work environment.

EMPLOYEE APPEALS

The Johns Hopkins Home Care Group (JHHCG) is committed to fair and consistent employment practices and procedures, and is committed to providing procedures whereby employee issues are resolved internally in a timely and efficient and fair manner.

Employees who have a problem or feel they have been unfairly treated have the opportunity to appeal through a formal procedure. All appeals will be handled in a confidential manner and as promptly as possible. Every effort will be made to find a resolution, which is reasonable and fair. If an employee has questions concerning the policies and procedures of the organization they may seek assistance through the Human Resources Department.

Complaints pertaining to the general level of wages, fringe benefits or other areas of financial management and staffing may not be processed under this appeal procedure.

The following are the steps in the employee appeals process where the employee should also present any evidences that they may have:

1. When an employee has a complaint concerning an appealable action, the employee should appeal the matter to his/her immediate supervisor in writing within five (5) days of an occurrence, using the appeals form that can be obtained from the Human Resources Department. The supervisor has five (5) working days to respond to the employee's issue in writing.
2. If the issue is not resolved after Step I, the employee has three (3) working days to file a written formal appeal. The appealing employee will then present the appeal form to the appropriate department heads. The department head must respond to the employee's appeal within five (5) working days, in writing, unless further investigation is required.

3. If an employee is not satisfied with the result of Step II, the employee may appeal the issue to the Director of Human Resources within five (5) business days. The Director of Human Resources will provide a written answer within ten (10) business days unless further investigation is required.

HARASSMENT

We absolutely prohibit any form of unlawful employee harassment based on race, color, religion, creed, sex, age, national origin, marital status, sexual orientation, disability, or veteran status, in accordance with applicable laws. Inappropriate interference with the ability of the JHHCG employees to perform their expected job duties is not tolerated.

With respect to sexual harassment, JHHCG strives to foster a work environment free of unlawful sex discrimination, sexual harassment, or retaliation. Sexual harassment includes unwelcome and/or unsolicited sexual advances, requests for sexual favors, and other verbal or physical conduct of a sexual nature. Employees should not be made to feel that submission to sexual conduct is a term or condition of an individual's employment. Refusal of sexual favors could create an intimidating, hostile, or offensive working environment.

Any employee who believes they have been harassed should immediately notify their supervisor, or JHHCG Human Resources department. All complaints and related information will be investigated and kept confidential to the extent possible without compromising an investigation.

OPPORTUNITIES FOR COMMUNICATION

Effective communication is essential to provide the best patient care, maintain productivity, sustain morale and foster constructive employee relations. Communication is an ongoing process, and JHHCG invites suggestion on how to enhance communications.

Employees and Their Supervisors

Questions and concerns relating to job activities should be first presented to supervisors. Communication between the supervisor and the employee should be ongoing and address concerns, duties and expectations. Supervisors can help employees achieve their professional goals by providing career development information.

Department and Unit Meetings

Departments and units meet to communicate goals and objectives and to discuss workplace issues of interest to employees. Employees should check with supervisors to obtain a schedule of the meetings.

Leadership Meetings

All levels of management hold meetings to communicate information and discuss matters of importance.

Executive Meetings

Top-level management meets to communicate information and discuss matters of importance.

Town Hall Meetings

The president of JHHCG and executive staff meet periodically with employees to provide information, answer questions and address concerns.

PROMOTIONS AND TRANSFERS

JHHCG encourages its employees to achieve their professional goals by seeking promotions or transfers within the organization. JHHCG posts available positions internally for five working days to allow current employees an opportunity to bid on the positions.

Eligible internal applicants that have successfully completed their 90-day probation period in their current position may obtain a Job Bid Form from the Department of Human Resources or their supervisor. Though eligible internal applicants are welcome to bid for open positions at anytime, qualified applicants who return a posting application within the five-day posting period will be given preference. The employees' current manager/supervisor will need to sign off on the bid form. A current resume or addendum to resume should be attached to each Bid Form.

Though preference will be given to internal applicants, JHHCG may concurrently advertise, recruit and hire qualified persons in the appropriate labor market. JHHCG is committed to hiring the most qualified person for the job.

INTER-AFFILIATE TRANSFERS

Employees of the following affiliates may retain certain benefits if they join JHHCG: Johns Hopkins Health System Corporation, Johns Hopkins Hospital, Johns Hopkins Bayview Medical Center (JHBMC), Broadway Medical Management (BMMC), Howard County Health Services (HIS), Howard County General Hospital (HCGH) and Suburban Hospital. Employees of affiliates must apply for positions through JHHCG's external application process.

DUAL EMPLOYMENT

Employees who work for more than one Johns Hopkins affiliate are considered dually employed. When this situation occurs, employees will need to inform their supervisor and the Human Resources Department and complete a Dual Employment form to be approved by both the primary and secondary employers.

Employees who are in a dual employment arrangement are responsible for submitting a completed Dual Employment Attendance Record (available in the Human Resources Department) to each supervisor that will be sent by each supervisor to the Payroll Department. Where payroll periods differ between two or more employers, dually employed employees may receive overtime compensation over two consecutive payroll periods.

Primary Employer - The employer within Johns Hopkins for whom an employee is scheduled or budgeted to work the greater number of hours. In situations where the employee works the same number of hours at each affiliate, the seniority date will determine the primary employer.

Secondary Employer – The employer within Johns Hopkins for whom an employee is scheduled to work the least amount of hours.

All employees, regardless of employment status, are governed by an at-will relationship which means that your employment is not for any specific time and may be terminated at will by you or JHHCG with or without cause and with or without prior notice.

PROBATIONARY AND ASSESSMENT PERIODS

The purpose of the probationary and assessment periods is to give supervisors the opportunity to evaluate an employee’s competency to fulfill the duties of the employee’s position. It also gives the employee an opportunity to evaluate the new position.

Probationary Period - All new employees and rehires will be on a 90-day probationary period starting on the first day worked. The probationary period may be extended for an additional 60 days if more time is required to assess an employee's performance completely. Supervisors need not use progressive discipline before terminating an employee during the probationary period.

During the probationary period, employees accrue vacation and sick time but are not eligible to use this time until completion of the probationary period. However, if the probationary period is extended, employees will be able to use their accrued time off.

Employees are not eligible to use the internal appeal process until the completion of the probationary period.

Assessment Period - All current employees promoted or transferred to a new position will be on a 90-day assessment period starting on their first day worked in their new position. The assessment period may be extended for an additional 60 days if more time is required to assess an employee's performance completely. Employees will accrue and be able to use vacation and sick time during the assessment period.

If the employee’s performance is unsatisfactory after the extension, progressive discipline may be used.

Employees are eligible to use the internal appeal process.

LICENSURE

Employees in occupations that are regulated by the Maryland State Licensing Board, other boards or professional societies are required to present proof of licensure before beginning work. Employees are responsible for renewing their licenses when necessary and ensuring that the license is kept current. An employee who fails to present or maintain a valid license as requested will not be allowed to work.

MEDICAL SCREENINGS

As part of the JHHCG employment process, an applicant is required to undergo a post-offer, pre-employment medical screening as well as an alcohol and drug test. Any offer of employment that an applicant receives from JHHCG is contingent upon, among other things, satisfactory completion of this screening and testing. Additionally, JHHCG and Occupational Health Services will determine the applicant’s ability to perform the essential functions of the position that has been offered, with or without reasonable accommodations.

As a condition of continued employment, employees may also be required to undergo periodic medical examinations, and/or alcohol and drug screenings, at times specified by JHHCG. All company-required pre-employment and alcohol and drug screenings are paid in full by JHHCG.

OCCUPATIONAL HEALTH SERVICES

The Johns Hopkins Occupational Health Services (OHS) provides pre-employment health screening examinations, annual PPD testing for employees who provide patient care, fitness for duty evaluations, drug and alcohol tests, and evaluation and assessment for employees returning to work from an illness or medical treatment.

The Human Resources Department will randomly select the Service Specialists required to take part in the testing. This testing will be done two (2) times a year and/or more often if deemed necessary by management or the Human Resources Department. From time to time, other categories of employees may be included in the pool from which participants are randomly selected. Employees who are asked to submit to a random drug and alcohol testing should go to the Occupational Health Services. Employees who refuse to participate may be subject to discipline up to and including termination.

NEW EMPLOYEE ORIENTATION

The JHHCG New Employee Orientation Program is designed to welcome new employees into the spirit and culture of the organization, to clearly establish home care performance expectations, and to set the stage for success. New personnel are encouraged to begin their jobs on the monthly orientation day in order to be introduced to the overall operations of Johns Hopkins Home Care Group prior to beginning work.

On this first day of your employment, you will participate in an orientation program conducted by several representatives of JHHCG, including Human Resources. You will receive important information regarding the performance requirements of your position, basic JHHCG policies, your compensation, as well as benefits and safety programs, plus other information necessary to acquaint you with your job and JHHCG. You will also be asked to complete all necessary paperwork at this time, such as the benefits enrollment form, annual organizational test, confidentiality and other pertinent forms.

Please use this orientation program to familiarize yourself with JHHCG and our policies and benefits. We encourage you to ask any questions you may have during this program so that you will understand all guidelines that affect and govern your employment relationship with us.

Departmental orientation, which includes orientation to specific job, duties, responsibilities, expectations and departmental policies and procedures, is provided by your specific department.

HOLIDAYS

Each year, JHHCG provides you with seven paid holidays including a floating holiday. You are eligible for the holidays immediately after employment. The six observed holidays are:

- ❖ New Year Day - January 1st
- ❖ Memorial Day - Last Monday in May
- ❖ Independence Day - July 4th
- ❖ Labor Day - 1st Monday in September
- ❖ Thanksgiving Day - 4th Thursday in November
- ❖ Christmas Day - December 25th

Floating Holiday

For the floating holiday, you are given a choice between Martin Luther King, Jr. Day, President's Day or the Friday after Thanksgiving. You must declare at the beginning of the year which day you want as your seventh holiday. You may request a day other than these three, but management has discretion in approving an alternate floating holiday. Your supervisors will be responsible to ensure that adequate coverage is maintained.

If you are hired after MLK day, you will not be eligible for the seventh holiday until January 1st of the next year.

Observance

Should a holiday fall on a Saturday, the preceding Friday will be considered the paid holiday. If a holiday falls on a Sunday, the following Monday will be considered the paid holiday. Employees who work in an area that regularly operates seven (7) days a week will be scheduled for a substitute holiday if the holiday falls on their regularly scheduled day off.

Holiday Pay Requirements

In general, to receive holiday pay, employees must work or be on an approved leave (i.e. vacation, Short Term Disability) on the days before and after the holiday is observed. Refer to the Holidays and Personal Days Policy for details and exceptions.

Holiday Pay Computation

Eligible full-time employees will receive holiday pay in the amount of eight (8) hours times their regular hourly rate for holidays not being worked.

Eligible part-time and limited employees will receive pro-rated holiday pay according to the number of hours they work. Example: A 32 hr per week employee would get 80% of 8 hours which is equivalent to 6.4 hours for a holiday.

Premium Pay

Eligible non-exempt employees who work on an observed holiday will receive premium pay at the rate of one and one-half (1 ½) their regular hourly rate. They will also be granted a substitute holiday, with pay, within 60 calendar days. If the employee is unable to schedule off within this period, it is up to the discretion of the supervisor to submit an approval for a payout for the substitute holiday.

Eligible exempt employees who are scheduled to work on an observed holiday will be paid at straight time for all time worked on the holiday and will be granted a substitute holiday, with pay, within 60 calendar days. If the employee is unable to schedule off within this period, it is up to the discretion of the supervisor to submit an approval for a payout for the substitute holiday.

Exempt clinical employees assigned to cover patients on an observed holiday will receive premium pay at the rate of one and one-half (1 ½) their regular holiday pay. They will also be granted a substitute holiday, with pay, within 60 calendar days. Part-time clinical employees will receive substitute holiday hours on a pro-rated basis according to the hours they are normally scheduled to work. The supervisor must approve use of the substitute holiday hours in advance.

Home Health Aides will only receive premium holiday pay for working on an observed holiday when a supervisor assigns them to cover patients. However, working the holiday should be pre-approved and dictated by the needs of the patient not the desire of the Home Health Aide to work.

Employees who are on an unauthorized absence on a holiday that they are scheduled to work will not receive any type of holiday pay.

Employees who are receiving Workers Compensation will not receive holiday pay.

An employee who is scheduled to work on an observed holiday but calls in sick in accordance with appropriate procedures will receive holiday pay for that day, but will not be granted a substitute holiday. A supervisor may request a certificate from a physician.

When an observed holiday occurs during an employee’s vacation period, the hours are scheduled as holiday hours and are not charged to an employee’s vacation account.

PERSONAL DAYS

Full-time employees will receive three (3) Personal Days during the calendar year and part-time and limited employees will receive Personal Days on a pro-rated basis.

During the first year of employment, employees will receive personal days as follows:

Those Hired	Receive
January 1 – May 31	3 Personal Days
June 1 – September 30	1 Personal Day

Employees hired after September 30th will not receive Personal Days in that calendar year. Personal Days are observed on the days of your choice, subject to advance approval by the supervisor. In emergency situations and at the discretion of your supervisor, Personal Days may be used without advance approval. Personal Days do not accumulate and therefore must be used by the last pay period each year.

VACATION

The Johns Hopkins Home Care Group provides paid vacations to eligible employees and encourages those employees to take vacations on a regular and timely basis. Vacations, however, may be scheduled by JHHCG to assure optimum patient care and efficient operation of the Company.

New employees must have successfully completed their new hire period before they become eligible to utilize vacation. Regular full-time employees scheduled to work 40 hours per week are eligible for full vacation allotments. > 10 or more years	8.31 hrs	27 days

For a part-time exempt employee who works 30 hours per week, the accrual rate will be 3.47 hours per pay period.

If the hire date is prior to 07/97, exempt and non-exempt employees accrue the same each year according to the Exempt Table above.

Vacation begins to accrue, based on regularly scheduled hours worked, from the first day of employment if you are a full-time, part-time or limited eligible employee. You are eligible to use your vacation after the successful completion of your new hire period. Requests for vacation must be approved in advance by your supervisor in accordance with departmental policy.

Vacation benefits do not accrue during any month in which you are on an unpaid leave of absence or not on the active payroll.

Accrued, unused vacation leave is paid upon termination of employment if appropriate notice is given and the separation is voluntary. An employee’s maximum accrual is 1.5 times effective to carry over beyond their anniversary date.

Please refer to the Benefit Guide Book and Vacation Policy for a more detailed explanation.

SICK TIME

The Johns Hopkins Home Care Group provides limited paid sick time to eligible employees for those days when they are unable to work because of their own illness or the illness of a child, spouse, or parent.

Please see the Sick Leave Policy for a more detailed explanation.

1. Eligible employees: are those employees who are regularly scheduled to work 20 hours or more a week and who have been employed at JHHCG for at least 90 calendar days.

2. Regular full-time employees: Regular full-time employees accrue sick time at the rate of 2.15 hours per pay period or seven (7) days per year of employment.

3. Regular part-time and limited employees: Sick time is accrued in the same manner as full-time employees, but on a pro-rated basis, in relation to the regularly scheduled hours.

In order to receive sick time, an employee must notify the employee’s supervisor each day of the absence at least 1 hour prior to the beginning of the shift (or in compliance with departmental procedures), unless the employee has a valid excuse for the failure to call.

Your supervisor may require a doctor's certificate prior to approving sick leave. If you have been absent due to a contagious illness or for three (3) days or more, you must be cleared by Occupational Health Services before returning to work. The Occupational Health Office is located at 98 N. Broadway, Suite 421, Baltimore, MD 21231 and can be reached at 410-955-6211 or 410-502-5656.

“We respect other people’s time when we learn to value it as much as our own. Even better, we can get to a point where we won’t distinguish between our time and the time of others.”

LEAVES OF ABSENCE (LOA)

A leave of absence is an unpaid, authorized period of absence from work that exceeds 30 days. Unless leave is required by law or a JHHCG policy, an LOA is granted at the discretion of the Department Director and the Director of Human Resources. Employees may be granted a leave of absence because of the employee’s health or child/dependent care, or for educational, military or personal reasons. A leave of absence may be requested by the employee or management.

Employees must use all accumulated vacation and personal days before going on a leave of absence. A leave of absence may be granted in increments of up to three months. An LOA may not exceed 12 months, including any Family and Medical Leave (FML) entitlement.

Sick leave and vacation credits do not accrue during a leave of absence. An employee on a leave of absence is not entitled to receive increases, holiday pay or any other pay during the period covered by the leave of absence. Employees on a leave of absence exceeding 30 calendar days will have their salary review and performance appraisal date adjusted accordingly, or their salary increase prorated.

Health – Employees who are placed on a non-FMLA Health leave of absence are eligible to continue their medical and dental coverage, as long as they elected coverage prior to the commencement of leave. Employees should consult the Human Resources Department for instructions on benefit payments.

Child/Dependent, Personal, and Education – Employees who are placed on a Child/Dependent, Personal or Educational leave are also eligible to continue their medical and dental coverage as explained under the Continuation of Health Insurance Benefits.

Military Leave - Military leave with pay is granted to employees who are required to be absent from scheduled duties for the purpose of taking a pre-induction physical examination. Proper documentation of such time lost must be submitted. Eligible employees who serve in summer military training in the Armed Forces of the United States should review the details of this leave as far in advance as possible with the supervisor. Employees who leave active employment to serve in the Armed Forces of the United States, or with a reserve component, for a period of time less than two weeks, shall be granted a military leave of absence with pay. Employees who leave the active employment to serve in the Armed Forces of the United States, or with a reserve component, for a period of time in excess of two weeks, shall be granted a military leave of absence, without pay, in accordance with applicable law.

For more information, please refer to the Military Leave Policy.

Funeral Leave

It is the policy of JHHCG to provide funeral leave for all full-time, part-time and limited employees in the event of a death in the immediate family. The immediate family is defined as a spouse/same sex domestic partner, child/child of a same sex domestic partner, stepchild, parent, foster parent, legal guardian, parent-in-law, grandparent, grandchild, brother and sister. Full-time employees may receive up to three consecutive days of paid leave within one week of death. Part-time and limited employees will receive funeral leave on a pro-rated basis.

Jury Duty

Employees whose regular work schedules are 20 hours or more per week and who are absent from work because of jury duty are paid by JHHCG for hours lost during the normal scheduled workweek.

Voting

An employee who is a registered voter in Maryland, scheduled to work during the time when the polls are open and does not have two (2) hours of continuous time off-duty before or following their shift assignment on Election Day, must be granted two (2) hours of continuous leave for the purpose of voting while the polls are open. For statewide elections, the polls are open from 7 a.m. to 8 p.m.

FAMILY MEDICAL LEAVE

The Family and Medical Leave Act (FMLA) requires employers to provide up to twelve (12) weeks of unpaid, job-protected leave to eligible employees for certain family and medical reasons in a rolling 12-month period. FMLA defines family as a spouse, son, daughter or parent. For military family leave, next of kin is considered. Granted leaves will run along with any other paid or unpaid leave (such as short-term disability, workers' compensation and/or sick and vacation time). Reinstatement will result in the return to current position or an equivalent position. Certification by a physician is required. If you have additional questions, check with your supervisor, contact the Human Resources Department or review the FMLA policy.

Eligibility

All employees are eligible for FMLA if they have worked for JHHCG for at least 12 months in the last seven years and have been employed for at least 1,250 hours of service during the 12-month period immediately preceding the start of leave. Eligibility determination will be made based on the date leave starts.

Criteria for Granting Leave

Leave will be granted for the birth or adoption of a child, care of a spouse, child or parent with a serious health condition, the employee's own serious health condition or military family leave.

Length of Leave

Length of leave can be broken down in three ways: block of time, intermittently or reduced hours.

Notification

An employee must give thirty (30) days notice, if the leave is expected.

For more information on FMLA and to obtain the FMLA packet, please stop by the Human Resources Department.

SHORT TERM DISABILITY

Short Term Disability (STD) benefits are designed to provide employees with a continuing source of income during short periods of illness or injury. Full-time, part-time and limited employees will automatically receive STD benefits at no charge effective the first day of the month following the date of hire and completion of the 90-day probationary period. However, coverage will not begin unless and until the enrollment form is turned in.

If approved, STD benefits replace 60 percent of your regular bi-weekly base pay for up to 11 weeks of disability, after a 14-day elimination period, as long as you are under a doctor's care.

For more information and to obtain disability paperwork, please contact the Human Resources Department.

LONG TERM DISABILITY

Full-time, part-time and limited employees have the option to purchase Mid-Term/Long-Term Disability benefits. For new hires, coverage is effective the first of the month following the date of hire, with a completed enrollment form. For employees electing during Open Enrollment, you will be required to complete an Evidence of Insurability form. Coverage is not effective until the Long Term Disability insurance company (presently UNUM) accepts your Evidence of Insurability form. In order to obtain Mid-Term Disability coverage, you must elect to participate in Long Term Disability Insurance coverage.

Mid-Term Disability: After 11 weeks of Short-Term Disability benefits, Mid-Term Disability benefits, if eligible, replace 60 percent of your regular bi-weekly base pay for up to 13 weeks, provided you are under a doctor's care.

Long-Term Disability: Replaces 60 percent of your monthly base pay, to a maximum of $8,000 per month, after you have been continuously disabled for 26 weeks. Benefits continue to age 65 as long as you are certified disabled by the insurance carrier and if age at disability is less than age 60. If you begin to receive disability benefits after age 60, your benefits continue for a specified number of months after age 65, as long as you are certified disabled, based on the schedule shown in the Summary Plan Description of the Long Term Disability Plan.

AFLAC

AFLAC provides income protection when you miss work because of an accident or injury. They offer cancer, accident, hospital and recovery protection policies, as well as protection if you have a stroke or heart attack. Benefits include services not covered under your medical plan that can be costly, such as travel expenses while seeking treatment, lost wages and home care. You can pay for these voluntary programs through payroll deductions on a pretax basis. For more information, visit www.aflac.com or call 410-729-8905.

WORKERS' COMPENSATION

Workers' Compensation is an insurance plan that pays employees their compensation while disabled due to a work-related injury or illness. An employee on workers' compensation will receive pay every week. The first three (3) days of lost time (out of work due to a work-related illness or injury) are considered a "waiting period." Workers' Compensation benefits begin on the fourth day of missed work. An employee may elect to use any available accrued time for the first three (3) days if OIC authorizes the lost time. Johns Hopkins Workers' Compensation makes the final determination if the injury and lost time are compensable.

Family and Medical Leave will run concurrently with any leave associated with a workers' compensation injury.

HEALTH INSURANCE

JHHCG provides regular full-time and regular part-time eligible employees an opportunity to participate in the Johns Hopkins EHP (Employee Health Programs) Medical and Dental Plan. Should there be any discrepancy between this handbook and the EHP Summary Plan Description (SPD), the provisions under the SPD will govern.

Eligibility:

Regular full-time and part-time benefited employees are eligible to apply for coverage for all plans within 7 calendar days from their hire date, within 30 calendar days of a qualifying change of status, or during the annual Open Enrollment usually conducted during the months of October and November. Coverage will be continued as long as you remain on active status and pay the required premiums. In order to prevent loss of coverage while on leave without pay, you must make arrangements with the Human Resources Department to continue to pay your premiums.

CONTINUATION OF HEALTH INSURANCE BENEFITS

If you reduce your work hours to a benefit ineligible status, or discontinue your employment with us, you are eligible to continue your present level of health and dental insurance coverage for a period of eighteen months at your own expense. You do not have to show evidence of insurability if you elect to continue your JHHCG coverage. If your spouse and/or dependent children are covered under your JHHCG health plan at the time of your termination or reduction in hours, they have a right to continued coverage at their expense. In addition, they may have the right to elect to remain covered at their expense under our plans if they lose coverage because of (a) your death; (b) your divorce or legal separation; (c) your entitlement to Medicare, or (d) a dependent child reaching adult status. However, if events (b) or (d) occur, you or your spouse must notify the Human Resources Department of the event within thirty (30) days in order to be eligible under this provision.

Because the law changes and our health benefits change periodically, the continuation of benefits described may also change. A complete explanation of your insurance continuation rights is contained in the EHP Summary Plan Description.

EMPLOYEE TUITION

JHHCG has established an education assistance program to help eligible employees develop their skills and upgrade their performance. All full-time and part-time regular employees who work 30-40 hours a week and have been employed for at least 90 days and have a satisfactory work performance record are eligible to participate in the program.

To receive tuition assistance, you must attend an accredited university, college, technical or vocational school. The course must lead to licensure, degree and/or meet the criteria of business necessity (job-required) or operational necessity. Internet courses are also covered under the program as long as they meet the same criteria of non-Internet courses. In this educational partnership, you agree to work for JHHCG for a predetermined period after satisfactory completion of the course(s). Reimbursement or advancement covers actual costs of tuition and mandatory fees only and is limited to no more than $5,200 per calendar year for approved courses. This amount is pro-rated at 75% for part-time employees working 30-39 hours per week.

Tuition Reimbursement vs. Advancement

Tuition assistance includes tuition reimbursement or tuition advancement. Tuition reimbursement is payment made to the employee after completion of an approved course with the submission of the final course grade. Tuition advancement is payment made to the education institution and made before the start of an approved course. For Graduate or Doctoral courses, employees can only utilize tuition reimbursement.

Course Grades

All tuition assistance awards will not be considered satisfied until the employee submits their final course grades for that semester to the Human Resources Department. All course grades must be submitted no later than one month after the course completion.

Undergraduate Courses – Satisfactory completion of approved courses or Challenge Exams must be a “C” or better.

Graduate or Doctoral Courses – Satisfactory completion of approved courses or Challenge Exams must be a “B” or better. For Pass/Fail courses, a “P” grade accompanied by a letter from the instructor indicating the equivalent letter grade

Application for Tuition Assistance

Tuition Reimbursement – A Tuition Assistance application for tuition reimbursement must be submitted to the Human Resources Department for approval no later than 2 weeks after course starting date or Challenge Exam. Supporting documentation must be attached to be considered complete.

Tuition Advancement – A tuition Assistance application for tuition advancement must be submitted to the Human Resources Department no later than 4 weeks before course starting date. Supporting documentation must be attached to be considered complete.

Benefits will be denied if Tuition Assistance applications are turned in after the deadline.

Supporting Documentation – Supporting documentation must be attached to the Tuition Assistance application for the application to be considered complete. For tuition reimbursement or advancement, the employee must attach an original or legible copy of the tuition invoice. For tuition reimbursement requests, the employee must also submit original and/or legible copy of proof of tuition payment.

DEPENDENT CHILD TUITION

Dependent child(ren) of full-time employees who have a minimum of two years of continuous service are eligible for payment of 50% of their full-time (a minimum of 12 credit hours per semester), undergraduate tuition and mandatory academic fees up to a maximum of 50% of the Johns Hopkins University’s freshman undergraduate tuition. Room and board, books, part-time and graduate study are not eligible. For example, a dependent child with a total of $15,000 in tuition and mandatory fees and receiving $2,500 grant and scholarship money:

$15,000 – tuition and mandatory fees
- 2,500 – grant/scholarship money
$12,500
$12,500 x 50% = $6,250

The employee will receive a $6,250 payment, which will be part of the employee's taxable income.

The two-year eligibility cut off dates are October 1 for the fall semester and February 1 for the spring semester. Employees must be in good standing with no written disciplinary action pending or on file within the last 12 months.

Furthermore, all eligible employees will receive an employer discretionary contribution based on 3% of your base salary.

Effective May 2009, JHHCG will automatically enroll all eligible new employees to the 403(b) Plan unless they opt out of participation within 90 days (they will receive a lump sum distribution of their elective deferrals without the imposition of any early withdrawal taxes). Automatically enrolled participants will be deemed to have elected to contribute 2% of the compensation to the 403(b) Plan. The 2% deferral contribution increases by 1% each year, to a maximum of 4%. A participant may elect to contribute a different amount, or to not contribute at all, on a prospective basis. EMPLOYEE REFERRAL BONUS

All employee referrals are appreciated and help to make JHHCG a great place to work! A referral bonus may be awarded if you refer someone who is hired for a pre-approved “hot job”. Typically, hot jobs include Registered Nurses, Physical Therapists and Pharmacists. The employee referral bonus will only be paid if both the new employee and the referring employee are employed at JHHCG at the time of the payout. If two employees refer a newly hired employee, the bonus will be equally divided to the two referring employees. The new employee must satisfactorily meet the performance and time criteria.

COMPENSATION

JHHCG recognizes the importance of attracting, retaining and motivating those who have the skills and abilities to make strong contributions to our organization. To do this, JHHCG implements salary ranges that are internally equitable and externally competitive.

GENERAL PAY INFORMATION

A pay range is established for each of the organization's jobs and these ranges are (a) internally equitable, i.e., fair when compared with the ranges established for comparable JHHCG jobs, as well as (b) externally competitive when compared with the rates paid by other employers for comparable jobs. Each employee whose performance is "proficient" or better will receive a rate of pay that falls within the pay range that has been established for their job.

JHHCG's compensation programs are designed and administered in such a way as to comply with all applicable laws and to provide fair and equitable treatment for all employees.

Regular Pay Procedures

All JHHCG employees are normally paid on Fridays on a bi-weekly basis. If a scheduled payday falls on a company observed holiday, you will usually be paid on the day preceding the holiday. All required deductions, such as federal, state, and local taxes, and all authorized voluntary deductions, such as health insurance contributions, will be withheld automatically from your paycheck.

Merit Increases

The purpose of merit increases is to recognize and reward employee performance over a designated period of time, and minimally once a year.

Acting Pay

Acting pay may be granted when an employee is temporarily assigned, for a period of at least one (1) week or more, to assume a substantial portion of the responsibilities of a job with a higher pay range. If the employee assumes only some, but not all, key elements of the higher position, than a pro-rated portion of acting pay may or may not apply.

Overtime

When a JHHCG employee is scheduled to work more than forty (40) hours in any given work week, the following applicable overtime pay policies will apply:

Non-exempt employees are to be paid one and one-half times their 'regular hourly rate' for all hours worked in excess of forty (40) hours in a work week.

Exempt employees are paid a salary commensurate with their job responsibilities regardless of the number of hours worked, and therefore are not eligible for overtime pay.

On-Call Pay

Employees who are on call will be paid a special on-call rate. Please see your supervisor for more details regarding On-Call Pay for your work area.

Bonus Pay

Bonus (and/or Incentive or Reward) Pay is compensation paid to an employee, or group of employees, in addition to the normal rate of pay. Bonus pay may be granted only under limited circumstances and must be pre-approved by the Director of Human Resources.

Market Adjustments

JHHCG may make salary adjustments when market demand has resulted in an increased rate of pay for a particular job or job family. In such cases, JHHCG may increase the salary in order to address imbalances between JHHCG salary ranges and those used by its competitors.

Reductions in Pay

For a variety of reasons, an employee may be reassigned to a job that has a lower pay range than the job they had previously held. In such cases, a reduction in pay will apply.

Shift Differentials

Employees receive shift differential pay for each hour worked if their shift starts after 12:00 pm but before 7:00 p.m.

Weekend Differentials

An employee who works four (4) or more consecutive hours during JHHCG's designated weekend period is entitled to receive a weekend differential for each hour worked on that shift. For the purposes of this policy, the weekend is defined as beginning 11:00 p.m. Friday and ending 7:00 a.m. Monday. Weekend differential is paid in addition to any shift differential.

Direct Deposit

Your paycheck can be deposited into the financial institution(s) of your choice, at no cost to you, and your money is available for use on payday. Your deposit may be split between your checking, savings, money market or Individual Retirement Account(s) (IRA). You may obtain a "Direct Deposit" form from the Human Resources Department or online at www.hopkinshomecare.org.

Incorrect Pay

When an error has been made in an employee's pay, JHHCG will make the appropriate corrections. It is an employee's responsibility to check for and immediately report errors to their supervisor.

PERFORMANCE REVIEW

All Johns Hopkins Home Care Group employees will be evaluated at periodic intervals based on their job description and not less than annually.

A performance appraisal is intended to document an employee's performance by providing a means of measuring an employee's effectiveness on the job, identifying areas where an employee is in need of training or improving and maintaining a high level of motivation through feedback and the setting of specific goals on the basis of this feedback.

Employees are responsible for working with their supervisors on an ongoing basis to develop and maintain a clear performance plan defining various performance expectations and their relative priority.

"It's almost impossible not to enjoy the sense of validation that comes with praise, but it is criticism that makes us learn what we are unable or unwilling to learn by ourselves. Whenever we turn our back on good criticism we do so at our own peril."

– P.M. Forni

GARNISHMENT OF WAGES

JHHCG honors wage garnishments. Employees will be notified by Johns Hopkins Payroll Shared Services immediately upon receipt of the court order. Any questions related to wage garnishments should be directed to Payroll Shared Services by calling 443-997-8146.

UNEMPLOYMENT COMPENSATION

You may be eligible for unemployment insurance benefits in the event you become laid off or unemployed through no fault of your own. The entire cost of this benefit is paid by JHHCG.

SAFETY

It is the goal of JHHCG to provide a safe, functional and effective environment for patients, employees, visitors and other customers. To achieve this goal, JHHCG has policies and procedures in place to promote the safety, health and productivity of employees.

FITNESS FOR DUTY

There may be occasions when management instructs or directs an employee to report to Occupational Health Services (OHS) to verify that the employee is fit-for-duty, such as after an illness or injury or when an employee cannot perform the functions of the job. Employees are required to report to OHS as instructed. Employees who refuse to comply with management's instructions may be subjected to disciplinary action up to and including termination.

PERSONAL VISITORS

JHHCG employees are not permitted to have visitors while at work. With the exception of emergency situations, no one may enter the work area unless working or conducting business with JHHCG.

Employees of JHHCG may not bring their children to work while on duty, except for special programs such as Bring Your Child to Work Program or any other program approved by Human Resources or the President of JHHCG. This is to avoid accidents and to allow the employee and fellow employees to perform their jobs without interruptions and distractions.

WORKPLACE ANTI-VIOLENCE

JHHCG is committed to providing a safe and secure workplace and an environment free from physical violence, harassment, threats and intimidation. Therefore, it is expected that all employees will perform their jobs in a nonviolent manner. In addition, JHHCG believes that violence is a form of serious misconduct that undermines the integrity of the employment relationship. Physical violence, threats, harassment or intimidation by an employee may result in disciplinary action up to and including discharge

JHHCG will not permit retaliation against anyone who brings a complaint of workplace violence or who participates in the investigation of a complaint of workplace violence.

WORK-RELATED INJURY/ILLNESS

If you experience any work-related injury or illness, you should report this immediately to your supervisor. Your supervisor will assess the situation and make a decision to send you immediately to the Johns Hopkins Occupational Injury Clinic (OIC) call 911 or send you to another urgent care center or emergency room for treatment. If you have an eye injury, you should report to the Emergency Room of the Wilmer Eye Institute (Wilmer 2). If you have a needlestick or other blood borne pathogen exposure, you should contact 410-955-STIX or 410-955-7849 immediately for further instructions.

When you report your work-related injury or illness to your supervisor, they will need to complete and sign an Employee Report of Incident form (available in the Human Resources Department) which documents the incident and medical concerns. In most cases, this form is immediately completed at the time you report the work-related injury or illness to your supervisor. However, when a serious incident occurs, your supervisor may not be able to get the information they need from you. In this case, your supervisor will place a call to the OIC to make an oral record of the incident. Your supervisor will then follow up with you when you are able to give the required information and sign the completed Employee Report of Incident form.

You will need to be seen at the OIC at the first available opportunity or next business day. You must take the completed Employee Report of Incident form to the OIC and any other related medical documentation that you may have received from a visit to the emergency room or urgent care center, if applicable. It is best to do this within 24 hours of the work-related injury or incident. OIC will determine if you need to return for follow up and the frequency of future visits based on your treatment plan.

The OIC hours of operation are 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m., Monday through Friday. OIC is located at:

Johns Hopkins Hospital
Blalock 139
600 N. Wolfe St.
Baltimore, MD 21287

Fax: 410-614-9579

DISASTER PLAN

JHHCG's disaster plan may be implemented in the event of a civil or military disaster, civilian disturbance or internal disaster. It will take priority over all other activities. Employees will be notified that the plan is in effect by any or all of the following lines of communication: telephone, voicemail, cell phone and media broadcasts. In the event of a disaster, call (410)288-8002 for information.

EVACUATION MAP

An emergency evacuation map (please see p. 37) is available for all employees. Anyone who may need assistance in an emergency, please contact the Human Resources Department.

FIRE PREVENTION

Safety is the responsibility of every JHHCG employee. Every reasonable precaution is taken to provide a safe environment for employees. Safety rules are for your protection and for the protection of our patients and co-workers. JHHCG needs your support and cooperation to maintain a good fire safety program.

To help prevent fires, you should:

- Keep work areas free from unnecessary combustible materials.
- Be especially careful handling flammable materials.

- Know the location of fire pull alarms and emergency exits (see page 35 to locate a fire exit and pull alarm near your work location).
- Stay away from the fire scene if you are not directly involved in removing persons to safety.
- Avoid using the telephone after the fire is reported. All telephone lines must be kept open for emergency calls.
- Above all, be ready and know the special fire procedures in your work area. Know what you should do in the event of a fire.

IDENTIFICATION BADGES

As a vital part of our security program, a Johns Hopkins Home Care Group identification badge with your name, title, and photo will be issued to you when you begin employment. If your identification badge is lost or stolen, you must pay a fee for a replacement. If at any time, you request that a newer, more updated photo be taken, you must pay a fee for that as well. You are required to wear your identification badge in clear view at all times while on duty as well as times when you may need to enter the building when you are off duty. The front desk receptionist will be monitoring all employee IDs upon entering the building.

Upon termination of employment, you must return your identification badge to your supervisor or to the Human Resources Department.

INCLEMENT WEATHER

We consider every position at JHHCG to be essential; therefore, it is important for you to report to work, as scheduled, during inclement weather. In the event that hazardous weather conditions exist, your arrival time will be considered by your supervisor. If you have questions or need additional information, please contact your supervisor. For closing listen to WBAL, 1090AM, WLIF, 102.9FM or call the JHHCG Inclement Weather Hotline at 410-288-8002.

FLU EPIDEMIC

Any employee with a fever of more than 100 degrees Fahrenheit and at least one upper-respiratory symptom (runny nose, nasal congestion, sore throat or cough) must do the following:

1. Notify their supervisor.
2. Stay home from work until they have had no fever for at least 48 hours.
3. Call Occupational Health Services (OHS) at 410-955-6211 to be screened and receive guidance regarding next steps.
4. Be approved to return to work by OHS.

Security

JHHCG is dedicated to maintaining a safe and secure workplace.

“To learn to be happy we must learn how to live well with others, and civility is a key to that. Through civility we develop thoughtfulness, foster effective self-expression and communication, and widen the range of our benign responses. Civility allows us to connect successfully with others. While there is no substitute for healthy self-esteem, we also need to transcend our Selves. Finding a comfortable balance between the two is where everyday wellness and happiness begin, and what civility is all about.” – P.M. Forni
