

The Heartbeat of Hopkins Medicine

We take care of our young doctors in training with scholarships and financial support. For years we have provided Hopkins medical students with their first stethoscope.

WE KEEP THE FAMILY CONNECTED. We are deeply committed to keeping the family ties strong and vital for all former students, current and former house staff, fellows, and faculty. One important way we do this is by providing much of the support that makes Hopkins Medicine possible.

MORE THAN JUST EVERY OTHER YEAR. We bring generations together to share wisdom and stories, and to learn about the very latest advances in medicine. Our Biennial Meeting is a fundamental part of life for the Hopkins medical community worldwide; our last Biennial featured Carol Greider, Ph.D., who discussed her pioneering research on chromosome ends, and shared the 2009 Nobel Prize for this work. In between Biennials, we're still here, quietly serving our extended Hopkins medical family.

WE'RE THE BEST-KEPT SECRET AT HOPKINS. Behind the scenes, dedicated to lifelong learning and lifetime connections. Visit the website or use the envelope provided to show your support for our programs and efforts. We are the heartbeat of Hopkins medicine, and we welcome you to the family.
