

January 2012

Dear Association Member,

With your support, the Johns Hopkins Medical and Surgical Association (JHM&SA) maintains its commitment to enriching the lives of students as they progress through phases of a rigorous and rewarding academic experience at the School of Medicine. We are honored to support the efforts of the next generation of innovators in medicine.

Your support in 2011 was a great help. Thank you! With your contribution, we were able to distribute stethoscopes to the first year medical students, provide funding for student-based organizations, award numerous scholarships, and fund prizes for Young Investigators' Day. In fact, it took contributions from nearly 1000 members to cover just these few initiatives. Continued and increased generosity will help us sustain and grow our commitment in 2012.

To learn more about the Association's programs, and to make a secure payment online, please visit our website at www.hopkinsmedicine.org/jhmsa. We are grateful for your loyalty and commitment to the Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions, and thank you for renewing your support so that these and other programs can continue.

Best wishes for a healthy and prosperous new year,

Eileen P. G. Vining, M.D.
President, JHM&SA
