Dear Patient:

Welcome to The Johns Hopkins Blaustein Pain Treatment Center. It is our privilege to serve you and provide you with state-of-the-art medicine in a caring, compassionate environment. Enclosed is additional information regarding your upcoming visit to the Pain Treatment Center. Please bring these materials with you when you arrive for your visit.

The Johns Hopkins Hospital is an academic institution with a mission to “improve the health of the community and the world by setting the standard of excellence in medical education, research and clinical care.” As part of this mission, we provide residency and fellowship training opportunities for the pain experts of the future. Please be aware that your care at the Pain Treatment Center will involve interaction with board certified physicians at various levels of medical training under the close supervision of your attending physician. While this may slightly extend the total time necessary for your visit, this academic approach provides a higher quality of care for our patients through more thorough discussion and review of patient problems and needs.

For further information and frequently asked questions, please visit our website at www.hopkinsmedicine.org/pain. Here you will also find educational videos on pain procedures as well as physician biographies and referral information.

At The Johns Hopkins Hospital, we value our patients and guests. Please feel free to contact me with any suggestions, questions, or concerns at (410)955-7246.

Sincerely,

Kory Termine
