

Approved June 18, 2009

TAKE PART IN BRAIN RESEARCH!

ATTENTION: PARENTS OF CHILDREN AGES 8 TO 12:

We are recruiting children to participate in a behavioral research study to learn if there are differences in motor skills in children with and without ADHD.

- WHO: CHILDREN WITH ADHD AND TYPICALLY DEVELOPING CHILDREN
- WHAT: 2 days, approximately 7 hours each, of computer games, paper & pencil tasks, Magnetic Resonance Imaging (MRI) scan of the brain, Transcranial Magnetic Stimulation (TMS), and electromyography (EMG). Free IQ testing and report, and a picture of your brain!
- WHERE: Kennedy Krieger Institute
- BENEFIT: There are minimal risks and no direct medical benefits for participating in this research study.
- COMPENSATION: $50.00
- CONTACT: Lindsay Koenig: 443-923-9254
koenigl@kennedykrieger.org

Stewart Mostofsky, M.D.: Principal Investigator
Protocol Number: NA_00000292

Kennedy Krieger Institute, Johns Hopkins Medical Institutions