

Black History Month Signature Event

The Impact of Black Businesses on the Black Community and beyond – Improving Health Outcomes

Friday, February 21 2:00-3:15pm
1800 Orleans Street, Zayed 2119,
Chevy Chase Auditorium

Join our panel speakers of respected business leaders and community members for a discussion on how black owned businesses uplift, inspire, and innovate communities, while breaking down systemic barriers in crucial industries. See how change is driven through economic empowerment, community engagement, and implementing social advocacy to improve health outcomes.

Matthew Reeds

Social Impact Leader and Agent of Change with a mission to address what he described as “insufficient government and healthcare services in Baltimore”. Founder of Reeds Fund. Board member for Disability Rights Maryland.

Dr. Tammira Lucas

Founder of The Cube, the largest Black Women owned co-working space in the United States. Currently Dr. Lucas is the Venture Growth Advisor for the Urban Business Innovation Initiative at TEDCO and Assistant Professor of Business at Coppin State University.

Arion Long

Founder of Femly™, an eco-friendly period care company that's on a mission to increase free access in school and public restrooms. With a first-of-its-kind dispenser that provides organic pads and tampons, Femly™ partners with schools, offices, hospitals, stadiums and more to help end period poverty.
