

WOMEN AND BLADDER CANCER

GREENBERG BLADDER CANCER INSTITUTE
AT SIBLEY MEMORIAL HOSPITAL

Practical Strategies for Responding to Fears of Recurrence and Progression

September 16 | 6-7 PM

On Zoom

Join Molly Vencel, LICSW, OSW-C to learn practical strategies for responding to fears of recurrence and progression. Fear and anxiety around recurrence are some of the most common emotional concerns for cancer patients. While they may not be avoidable, there are tools that can help.

Register: Click here

New Research on Bladder Cancer, Nutrition, and the Gut Biome

October 21 | 6-7 PM

On Zoom

Urologist Armine Smith, MD will discuss her recent research on bladder cancer, nutrition and the gut biome. Plan to attend and bring your questions about this important work and how research studies are conducted.

Register: Click here

Research on New Tools in Care Planning for Urothelial Cancer

November 11 | 6-7 PM

On Zoom

Medical Oncologist Jeannie Hoffman-Censits, MD will discuss her research on tools for care planning in urothelial cancer. Plan to attend and bring your questions about this important work and how research studies are conducted.

Register: Click here

2026 EDUCATIONAL SERIES

Contact: Margo Calkin

mcalkin2@jh.edu / 202-660-6954

