March 12, 2020

A core mission of the Johns Hopkins ARVC Program has always been focused on the well-being of our patients. Given the recent development of the coronavirus (COVID-19) and our evolving understanding of how this could impact our patients and staff, we have been recommended by University leadership that we cancel our upcoming ARVC Patient and Family Seminar scheduled for May 2, 2020.

We are saddened to announce this cancellation, which is the first in the history of our program, but hope you understand that your safety and well-being is our priority.

At this point, clinical care at Johns Hopkins continues, and if you had a clinical appointment scheduled around the seminar date, we will still be here seeing patients unless the Outpatient Center at JHH closes.

Please continue to check the website below for additional information:

We also hope all of you will plan to attend our ARVC Family meeting in 2021.

Sincerely,

Hugh Calkins, M.D., F.A.C.C., FHRS, FAHA
