The Achievers Award Program recognizes and highlights underrepresented minorities across Johns Hopkins Medicine who exemplify excellence and exhibit our Johns Hopkins Medicine core values. Award recipients will be profiled on the Johns Hopkins Medicine Office of Diversity, Inclusion and Health Equity website, on Inside Hopkins, and at signature Employee Resource Group events during the respective heritage months.

Johns Hopkins Medicine faculty, staff and learners who meet the following criteria are eligible to be nominated:

- Must be of the community
- Employed at Johns Hopkins for at least 1 year
- Must be in good standing (attendance and good performance evaluations)
- Must exemplify JHM core values
- Demonstrates contributions to the communities they serve and/or represent
- Contributes to the healthcare field and/or their surrounding communities

Nominate a deserving college for:
National Hispanic Heritage Month. Nomination deadline is August 14, 2020 (September 15th thru October 15th)
National Disability Awareness Month. Nomination deadline is August 28, 2020 (October)

Nominations for the Baker-King Awards – Deadline August 7th
The 2020 Johns Hopkins Hospital and Health System Corporation Virtual Employee Appreciation Celebration will be held Monday, Sept. 21, from noon to 1:30 p.m. Additional details on the event will follow. During the event, we will present the 2020 Baker-King Awards, which recognize nonsupervisory staff for outstanding performance.

Managers and supervisors can nominate an employee by visiting the Employee Appreciation website and completing the nomination form. Feel free to nominate more than one employee if you feel he or she is deserving of recognition. Please return all completed forms to Baker-KingAwards@jhmi.edu no later than Friday, Aug. 7th. All nomination forms must be signed by the employee’s supervisor and should be forwarded by the functional unit administrator/director.

2020 HHMI Gilliam Fellows - Hopkins School of Medicine Awardees

“Understanding and Using Equity Approaches to Promote Health, Leadership, and Well-Being”

Title: Baltimore City: Decline by Design

This presentation is designed to help you Learning Objectives:
1. Identify examples of structural racism in Baltimore’s history.
2. Recognize the role Baltimore’s leaders played in creating the blueprint for policies that segregated America’s cities and suburbs.
3. Connect practices and policies of the past with the current conditions of urban inequity.

Elizabeth Nix, PhD
Elizabeth Nix is an Associate Professor of history in the College of Arts and Sciences at the University of Baltimore and the Chair of the Division of Legal, Ethical and Historical Studies. An American Studies graduate of Yale University, Betsy received her Ph.D. in American Studies from Boston University. She was part of the steering committee for the award-winning Baltimore ’68 public history project. With project organizers, she co-edited an anthology entitled Baltimore ’68: Riots and Rebirth in an American City (Temple University Press, 2011). She also co-wrote Introduction to Public History: Interpreting the Past, Engaging Audiences with collaborators in California and Indiana. Her work and interviews with her about Baltimore’s history have appeared in Slate, Time Magazine, CNN, NPR, The Washington Post and The New York Times. This is her 25th year living in Baltimore City, and she has lived on Baltimore’s Union Square neighborhood since 2000. Her two sons graduated from Baltimore City College High School.

Title: Equity and Diversity, Women in Leadership and Social Justice: Next Steps

This lecture is designed to help you:
1. Apply the wisdom of inclusion and social justice for effective leadership.
2. Describe examples of women in leadership.
3. Utilize cultural differences when partnering to create a climate of success across cultural lines.
4. Recognize ways to transform your organizations into collaborative and inclusive environments.
5. Apply self-assessment of attitudes, conventionalized ideas, bound potential, and skills needed that are crucial for overcoming the obstacles.
6. Practice the importance of essential conversations and next steps.

Rosita López, EdD
Rosita López, EdD is a gifted inspirational lecturer of international demand as keynote speaker in forums ranging from educational reform to corporate and public governance. Her presentations are lively, her illustrations practical, and her messages motivating and inspirational. Dr. López is a proud educator who equally excels as an orator, as she does in the boardroom. She has served on the Casa Central Board, one of the largest Hispanic serving nonprofit organizations in the United States, for over 20 years, 10 of them as Chairperson. ANA-JHU Social Justice Summer Series
Jointly hosted by the ANA and Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, Department of Neurology

George Floyd's murder, and the public response, has awoken many to the deeply embedded racism and systemic inequalities in our society. The American Neurological Association is the home of academic neurology, with a mission to advance and support scholarly advances in our field in the realms of clinical innovation, education, transformative research and professional development. Since its inception in 1874, its first 140 years was an embodiment of (white) advantage - an honorific society that largely functioned through networks attainable only to some. The ANA is challenging itself to become a champion of 21st century academic neurology. Given that its past was marred by systemic racism, the ANA is working hard to find new ways to rectify these exclusionary practices. To meet these challenges, ANA is redoubling its efforts around inclusion and diversity. This summer, ANA, with JHU SOM Neurology, is reaching out to its membership and the wider academic community to examine the scope of the problem, solicit feedback, and prepare an actionable path forward that will be unique for our organization, neurology, and neuroscience. We envision remaking our community to respond to the perception that it still carries too many vestiges of its exclusive past, and does not provide a welcoming home for all.
