The Equal Access in Science and Medicine Initiative Inaugural Lecture
The Equal Access in Science and Medicine seminar committee is pleased to welcome Dr. Kay Redfield Jamison to present its inaugural spring lecture on Tuesday, February 25th at 2:00 p.m. in the Chevy Chase Auditorium. Dr. Jamison, Dalio Professor in Mood Disorders, Professor of Psychiatry and Behavioral Sciences at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine, and co-director of the Johns Hopkins Mood Disorders Center, will discuss how her experiences with bipolar illness have shaped her personal life and career in a lecture titled, “Professional and personal perspectives on bipolar illness.”

The 19th Annual Mary Elizabeth Garrett Endowed Lectureship
The lecture sponsored by the Office of Faculty and the Office of Women in Science and Medicine will be held on March 11, 2020 from 4:00PM - 5:00PM in the Chevy Chase Auditorium, and will be followed by a short reception. The lecture will be given by Elaine Weiss, author of the acclaimed book “The Women’s Hour” which details the suffrage movement and the struggle to achieve the right to vote for women.

If you would like to have your event, etc. promoted by our office, please email the details to us at diversity@jhmi.edu
The Peale building was the site of one of the first grammar schools in Baltimore's "Colored School system," and the first High School available to people of color in the State of Maryland.

THEME: AFRICAN AMERICANS AND THE VOTE

The year 2020 marks the sesquicentennial of the Fifteenth Amendment (1870) and the right of black men to vote. The year 2020 also marks the centennial of the Nineteenth Amendment granting (1920) women, including black women, the right to vote. The theme speaks to the ongoing struggle of both black men and black women to secure the right to vote. Even before the Civil War, black men petitioned their state legislatures and the US Congress, seeking to be recognized as voters. Black disfranchisement laws in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries undermined the guarantees in the Fourteenth, Fifteenth, and Nineteenth Amendments for blacks until the Voting Rights Act of 1965. Through voting-rights campaigns and legal suits from the turn of the twentieth century to the mid-1960s, African Americans made their voices heard as to the importance of the vote. Indeed, the fight for black voting rights continues today.
