When to clean hands?

Johns Hopkins Policy requires hand cleaning upon entry and exit from a patient’s room, between patients, AND during the following situations:

- Before invasive procedures
- After contact with mucous membranes, bodily fluids, contaminated equipment or articles
- After glove removal
- When moving from a contaminated to non-contaminated site on same patient