

Congratulations!

Kudos to Dr. Douglas N. Robinson along with a team of Johns Hopkins investigators: Dr. Douglas Barrick, Dr. Deborah Carran, Dr. Chiquita Collins, Dr. Deidra Crews, Dr. Estelle Gauda, Dr. Jungsan Sohn, Dr. James Stivers, Assistant Dean Paul White, Dr. Kathy Wilson and Dr. Andrew Wolfe who were recently awarded $2 million by the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services through the Health Careers Opportunity Program \(HCOP\). It will support two outstanding Johns Hopkins outreach programs: Biophysics Research for Baltimore Teens and Summer Academic Research Experience \(SARE\), which allows them to double the number of local teens who can participate. The programs help high-school and college students from disadvantaged backgrounds overcome socioeconomic barriers and enter the healthcare workforce. The award also funds undergraduates for the Summer Internship Program and post-baccalaureates for a newly developed Doctoral Diversity Program.

News and Announcements

- The National Institute on Minority Health and Health Disparities \(NIMHD\) announces a new webinar series, CLIPS \(Conversations Leading to Insights on Policy and Science\). CLIPS Webinars will focus on the intersection of Administration initiatives, legislative proposals, policy and science. Produced by NIMHD Legislation, the purpose of CLIPS is to provide a resource to educate and disseminate information to the NIH community and external stakeholders. To learn more about CLIPS, visit <http://www.nimhd.nih.gov/about/clips.html>.
- A new documentary produced by California Newsreel, THE RAISING OF AMERICA: Early Childhood and the Future of Our Nation, explores how conditions faced by children and their families during infancy and the early years can literally alter the developing brain and affect a child's future success—in school and in life. Many families are struggling to provide the nurturing environment all young children need to thrive. How does the growing squeeze on parents—for time, for money and for resources—impact the future mental and physical wellbeing of their children? What are the consequences for the nation? And how might we do better? Series will be available to watch on-line November 9-30, 2015 at www.raisingofamerica.org.
- The Johns Hopkins Center to Reduce Cancer Disparities: James Page, Johns Hopkins Medicine Vice President and Chief Diversity Officer along with Eloiza Domingo-Snyder, Director of Diversity, Inclusion and Cultural Competency will present “Unconscious Bias in Healthcare.” Thursday, November 12 | Hampton House 744, 624 N. Broadway.
- Join Dr. Harolyn Belcher, Director of the Center for Diversity in Public Health Leadership Training Program along with Maryland Senator Shirley Nathan-Pulliam [D-District 44], Dr. Chiquita Collins, Dr. Melissa Valerio, and Dr. Charles E. Drum for the Room to Grow: Journey to Cultural and Linguistic Competency Mini-Conference. Sponsored by the Kennedy Krieger Institute and various partners. Registration is required. Please RSVP here. Tuesday, November 17, 2015 8am-2pm | Bloomberg SPH Feinstone Hall, E2030.

- You are invited to attend the next HOLA/Centro SOL monthly meeting with guest speaker Eloiza Domingo-Snyder, Director of Diversity, Inclusion & Cultural Competency, Johns Hopkins Medicine, Tuesday, November 17, 12-1 pm Phipps 545, 600 N. Wolfe St. Please RSVP by emailing centrosol@jhmi.edu.
- The Building Inclusive Communities conference brings together leaders across industries and disciplines to foster new strategies for increased inclusion. Our attendees and presenters are policymakers, educators, faith leaders, and entrepreneurs-as well as self-advocates who are making inclusion a reality in undeserved population. Registration Information | December 3-5, 2015 | Boston, MA

Academic Articles on Diversity

- A recent report "Altering the Course: Black Males in Medicine," by the Association of American Medical Colleges \(AAMC\) sheds light on a disturbing trend--the number of African-American men who applied to medical school last year is less than the number who applied in 1978. Contributing factors range from substandard education and stereotypes to the lack of role models and the high cost of medical school. Read the full report here.
