

JOHNS HOPKINS

UNIVERSITY & MEDICINE

OFFICE OF DIVERSITY & CULTURAL COMPETENCE
ASSOCIATE DEAN • CHIQUITA A. COLLINS, PHD
ODCC NEWSLETTER • WINTER 2017 – ISSUE 2

Congratulations!

We are pleased to announce the following Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine UIM faculty members on their recent promotions to the rank of Associate Professor!

Congratulations on successfully reaching a major milestone in your career, Dr. Amanda Brown and Dr. Jenell Coleman!

Best wishes and continued success!

Amanda Brown, PhD
Department of Neurology

Jenell Coleman, MD, MPH
Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology

UIM Leaders Embarking on New Roles at Duke University, University of Toronto and Mayo Clinic

Please join us in congratulating and thanking Drs. Howard Francis, Estelle Gauda and Alfredo Quiñones-Hinojosa, three outstanding Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine leaders, physician-scientists and mentors, for their service, dedication and commitment. Some of whom have been with us for 29 years or more! All three have been instrumental in our efforts to make JHU SOM a more diverse and inclusive place. Admired and respected by countless students, trainees, faculty, administrators and staff, we wish you well in this next chapter of your life!

Howard W. Francis, MD, MBA, FACS
Duke University
Named Chief, Division of Head and Neck Surgery and Communication Sciences

Estelle B. Gauda, MD
University of Toronto
Chief, Division of Neonatology at the Hospital for Sick Children (SickKids), Director of the University of Toronto's Center for Neonatal Medicine and Senior Associate Research Scientist at the SickKids Research Institute

Alfredo Quiñones-Hinojosa, MD
Mayo Clinic at Jacksonville, FL
Named the William J. and Charles H. Mayo Professor and Chairman, Department of Neurologic Surgery
Note: Dr. Quiñones-Hinojosa joined Fall 2016

Department of Dermatology 8th Annual Dr. Martin Luther King, Jr. Visiting Professorship Lecture – Held January 25, 2017

Honoring Dr. King’s Legacy and helping to promote diversity in the field of dermatology sponsored by Dr. Sewon Kang, Noxell Professor of Dermatology at the Johns Hopkins University School of Medicine and Dr. Ginette Okoye, Assistant Professor and Director of The Johns Hopkins Ethnic Skin Program.

From left to right, Drs. Sewon Kang, Chiquita Collins, Ginette Okoye, and Andrew F. Alexis, Chairman, Department of Dermatology at Mount Sinai St. Luke’s and Mount Sinai Roosevelt in New York City.

- Inspiring Intersections: A Call to Collaborate, Challenge, and Change
A Summit Sponsored by the AAMC Group on Diversity and Inclusion (GDI) and the Group on Women in Medicine and Science (GWIMS)
May 4-7, 2017
Westin Missions Hills
Palm Springs, California
Registration will open soon!

- AAMC Mid-Career Minority Faculty Seminar
June 15-17, 2017
AAMC Learning Center
Washington, DC
Apply Here

ODCC Newsletters are now archived on our website:
<http://www.hopkinsmedicine.org/odcc/newsletters.html>

- The Robert Wood Johnson Foundation call for applications for the second cohorts of Clinical Scholars, Culture of Health Leaders, Health Policy Research Scholars, and Interdisciplinary Research Leaders. Applications now open for @RWJF national leadership programs; learn more & apply: <http://rwjf.ws/2i2VZfy>

Periodically we will highlight our JHU SOM Diversity Councils. Dr. Tina Cheng, MD, MPH, the Given Foundation Professor of Pediatrics, and Director of the Department of Pediatrics is pictured with The Johns Hopkins Pediatric Diversity Council, composed of a group of residents, fellows, and faculty in the Pediatrics Department representing various national, ethnic, and geographical backgrounds that work together to increase diversity, awareness, and community at Johns Hopkins Hospital.

Recognition & Achievement

Sherita Golden, MD, MHS

Dr. Genaro A. Ramírez Correa, Assistant Professor of Pediatrics, Division of Pediatric Cardiology is a rising leader in the field of molecular cardiology and its translation into the advancement of therapies of diabetic cardiomyopathy and heart failure. He was awarded K01 funding through the NIH/NHLBI Mentored Career Development Award to Promote Faculty Diversity in Biomedical Research, “Novel Quantitative Proteomic Approaches to Define the Altered Interplay between Oglcnacylation and Phosphorylation In Myofilament Dysfunction of Diabetic Hearts.”

Genaro A. Ramirez Correa, MD, PhD

Dr. Sherita Golden, Professor of Endocrinology and Executive Vice Chair of the Department of Medicine, was recently named the co-recipient of the prestigious Walter Reed Distinguished Achievement Award from the University of Virginia recognizing her professional accomplishments, outstanding innovation and exemplary leadership in the field of Medicine. She will be presented with the award by the dean of the UVA School of Medicine this April.

Felicia Hill-Briggs, PhD, ABPP

Dr. Felicia Hill-Briggs, Professor of Medicine, and Senior Director of Population Health Research and Development for Johns Hopkins HealthCare, has been named 2017 president-elect for health care and education for the American Diabetes Association's Board of Directors. She will assume the role of president in January 2018. In the past, she has chaired the ADA's Council on Behavioral Medicine and Psychology and served on the Grant Review Committee and currently serves on the association's Research Policy Committee.

Namandjé Bumpus, PhD

Dr. Namandjé Bumpus, Associate Professor in the Division of Clinical Pharmacology and Associate Dean for Institutional and Student Equity, was recently named by Mayor Muriel Bowser of Washington, D.C., the newest member of the Science Advisory Board in the District of Columbia. The board provides scientific oversight for the district's Department of Forensic Science \(DFS\) and advises the DFS director, Mayor and Council members on matters relating to the department.

Inaugural Dinner & Dialogue Series

Informal conversations with students, faculty, staff, or administrators from diverse backgrounds over dinner--an opportunity to “break bread together” as well as build community and exchange ideas in a small setting.

Left to right: Drs. Jenell Coleman, Tony Timoll, Jason Vaught, and Shari Lawson.

Top Row (left to right): Mr. James Page, Jr. Drs. Tony Timoll, Errol Bush, Fabian Johnston, Jason Vaught, and Chiadi Onyike. 2nd ROW: Drs. Robert Higgins, Chiquita Collins, and Adrienne Scott. Bottom Row: Drs. Shari Lawson, Mary Philogene, Jenell Coleman, Estelle Gauda, Amanda Brown, and Renee Blanding.

Office of International Services - Guidance on Executive Order on Immigration

During the week of January 30, 2017, the Office of International Services (OIS) conducted five information sessions across Johns Hopkins campuses in Baltimore and Washington, D.C. More than 500 individuals attended the sessions, which covered elements of the executive order on immigration and subsequent released statements by the Department of Homeland Security and other government agencies. Additional information sessions may be held in person or online. In the meantime, OIS will update this web page as new or updated information becomes available. Note: the information below is for general information purposes only. The situation remains fluid. Please consult with an advisor in OIS before any travel abroad and check this page regularly for updates.