The Johns Hopkins Hospital
Performing Arts Physical Therapy Fellowship

Program benefits:
• Salary and full-time benefits, including paid time off
• One-on-one clinical mentoring
• Variety of unique didactic experiences
• Opportunity to participate in clinical research
• Leadership skill development

Details:
• 18-month-long program
• 200 hours of one-on-one mentorship with performing arts physical therapy specialists
• 150 hours of didactic curriculum provided by dance medicine professionals
• Clinical exposure to adolescent, collegiate and professional dance patient populations
• Interdisciplinary collaboration, with a focus on patient-centered care
• Community outreach with high school, university and private studios
• Backstage service opportunities
• Participation in performing arts research initiatives

This fellowship is a clinical-based program for experienced physical therapists seeking to specialize in performing arts. The mission of this program is to provide a structured, comprehensive program of clinical, didactic and research experience to develop advanced clinical skills and management for rehabilitation of performing artists, such as dancers, musicians, vocal artists, aerialists and figure skaters.

For more information or to apply, contact:
Andrea N. Lasner, DPT
Fellowship Program Director
alasner1@jhmi.edu

hopkinsmedicine.org/pmr/performing-arts-fellowship

Since it was founded more than 100 years ago, The Johns Hopkins Hospital, an academic medical center located in Baltimore, MD, has been at the forefront of discovery, innovation and medical advances.

Its reputation for excellence has earned a ranking among “America’s Best Hospitals” by U.S. News and World Report for more than two decades.