

Do you or a loved one have Parkinson's disease?

Are you interested in participating in research?

Johns Hopkins is conducting a one-day study to learn about non-motor symptoms of Parkinson's disease

All adults with Parkinson's disease may be eligible to participate

For more information, please contact:

Kate Perepezko
410-614-1242
kperepe1@jhu.edu

Principal Investigator: Gregory Pontone, M.D.
Protocol #: NA_00092051
Sponsor: National Institute of Aging

