

MEDICAL STUDENT FINANCIAL AID APPLICATION INSTRUCTIONS

All financial assistance offered by the School of Medicine Financial aid Office is based on financial need and availability of funds. Johns Hopkins administers both federal and institutional aid programs. As a student at a professional school, you are considered independent for federal financial aid and must submit financial information about yourself and your spouse. For institutional scholarship and grant funds, you are required to submit parental information. This policy is necessary to allocate our limited resources equitably to families with different financial situations. This requirement applies to all applicants, regardless of age or marital status. You must be a United States citizen or permanent resident to apply for Federal Financial Aid at the School of Medicine.

Please make sure all required applications are received in a timely manner. The financial aid office will begin processing financial aid applications in February.

Note: Scholarships are guaranteed for 4 years of matriculation. Therefore, students need only complete the CSS Profile one time, the first year of application.
